

This man wants to talk to you about a really important job.

Do you have strong foreign language skills? Becoming a Foreign Service Officer is the opportunity of a lifetime for U.S. citizens who have strong foreign language skills. We have an immediate need for those who speak Arabic, Chinese, Japanese or Korean, as well as other foreign languages. Register today for the Spring Foreign Service Examination.

As a U.S. Foreign Service Officer you'll experience the challenge of being on the frontline team of all U.S. embassies and consulates. There are five career tracks from which to choose: administrative, consular, economic, political, and public diplomacy. There is no better way to experience a global lifestyle, draw on your language skills, and make a difference in the world. Take the first step towards a career in diplomacy with the U.S.

Department of State. Visit our Web site, www.careers.state.gov, immediately to register online for the Foreign Service Examination.
